

Danes, Uncowed
By Nazi Might
And Slayings,
Plot Sabotage

By JOHN H. COLBURN
Stockholm, Aug. 31 (AP)—Harassed German occupation authorities in Denmark, having crushed the last vestiges of a military revolt after two days of violent fighting, were faced today with a new threat as a series of general strikes against their dictatorship broke out in nine cities.

With King Christian a prisoner in Sorgenfri castle, most of the government members jailed or under house arrest and scores of other prominent Danes in prison, Gen. Hermann Von Hanneken moved to tighten the German military grip over the country by rounding up all Danish Army and Navy officers.

Strikes Spread
Von Hanneken rushed troops to areas where strikes were reported, paralyzing every type of business. Extraordinary efforts were taken to prevent spread of the strikes to other industrial centers.

The strikes indicated the Danes were uncowed by threats of drastic penalties, including death, under Von Hanneken's martial law decree instituted before dawn Sunday, when he stripped the government of Premier Eric Scavenius of all power and sent a Nazi captain to tell King Christian, "You are my prisoner."

With the sovereign and the government, which resigned within a few hours, apparently powerless, Danish citizens living in Stockholm expressed belief that political leaders outside Denmark would form a Free Danish government in London and ally it formally with the United Nations.

Fear Free Danes
Free Danish leaders headed by Christian Moeller have been functioning in London, but until now had no authority to exercise governmental powers. The Nazi overlords recognized the threat of Moeller's influence in Denmark by immediately arresting most of the leaders of his conservative party.

Danish legal experts in Sweden took the view today that a state of war now exists between Germany and Denmark since the military dictatorship powers which Von Hanneken says he is applying under Article 42 of the Hague convention can be exercised only by an enemy force.

Confronting Von Hanneken was an abdication threat from King Christian. Refugees reported the king said he would step down if the Germans arrested Danes as hostages in connection with battles, sabotage or other disturbances.

Teacher Resigns
Fairfield Post
Mrs. Margaret Bowling, York Springs, has resigned as teacher of social studies and English at Fairfield high school. The resignation was presented Monday evening, Dr. Anson Hamm, principal of the school announced today. Miss Ethel G. Allison is acting as substitute teacher until another teacher can be secured. The school opened Monday.

A number of students have been given permission to be absent from school to pick peaches and some have been given permission to devote afternoons to picking fruit. Dr. Hamm said. The number of students is not large, he states.

Hospital Report
Mrs. Robert Weidner, Gardners R. 2; Abram Wenk, Bendersville; George Buettner, Mt. St. Mary's college; William I. Shaffer, Westminster, and Mrs. Garnet Coble, Aspers R. 1, have been admitted as patients to the Warner hospital. Those discharged were James Herrington, Mt. St. Mary's college; Mrs. Lloyd Herring, Biglerville R. 1, and Mrs. Charles Rupp and infant daughter, Bettie Suzanne, Sachs apartments.

Income Tax Information
One of every three federal income taxpayers must file a new income tax return by Sept. 15—a declaration of estimated 1943 income—and make a payment if his entire tax isn't being paid through withholding from his paycheck.

Who must file? How the tax is to be figured? What form to use?

These and other questions are answered by James Marlow and George Ziekle, "Today on the Home Front" columnists, in a series of three daily articles, starting today in The Gettysburg Times. The article appears on page 4.

Bitter Air Fight Waged Over Italy

ARMY AIR CORPS OFFICER SPEAKS HERE SEPT. 8TH

Major John D. Hartigan, commanding officer of the 32nd College Training Detachment (Aircrew) Army Air Corps, Dickinson College, Carlisle, will be the speaker at the open air meeting which will follow the patriotic parade to be held here on the evening of Wednesday, September 8th, Leighton C. Taylor, chairman of the Community Events committee, announced today.

Major Hartigan is an accomplished speaker and has a splendid military background.

He was born in Crete, Nebraska, and is now serving in his second war.

Served in France
In the first World War he attended the Military Observers School, at Fort Still, Oklahoma, and the Observers School, at Tours, France. Later, after serving in several major engagements in France, he attended the Artillery School, at Saumur, France, the Aerial Gunners School at Casaux, France and the Observers Finishing School, at Châtillon-sur-Seine, France.

After the war, Major Hartigan was selected to serve as a member of the American Relief Administration to Rumania and later he was a member of the League of Nations Commission.

When the Armistice was signed he served on the Plebiscite Commission in the Saar region.

After he returned to this country he continued in service and later served as European Commissioner for the New York World's Fair, Inc.

To Speak in Square
Major Hartigan has served on many other important military and civil commissions in recent years and has traveled extensively abroad.

His address will be delivered from a rostrum in center square immediately following the patriotic (Please Turn to Page 5)

Brothers Meet In North Africa

Privates Raymond and John Lawrence, sons of Mr. and Mrs. Vincent Lawrence, West Middle street, who have been on duty with the U.S. Army in North Africa for almost one year met for the first time on foreign soil last week, according to a letter received here this morning by Mrs. Lawrence.

John Lawrence, aged 20, chauffeur for a company car, wrote last Tuesday that he had seen his brother, Raymond, 31, for the first time in more than two years. The place of meeting and the circumstances were not described. Raymond drives an ammunition truck.

Another letter which reached the Lawrence home today told of the graduation of Donald Lawrence, aged 19, from an Army air school at Salt Lake City. Floyd Lawrence, 23, has been on duty with the Army in Hawaii for the last four years.

WILL DEDICATE COUNTY SERVICE ROLL ON NOV. 11

Adams county's service honor roll to be erected in center square "in honor of the men and women of Adams county serving in the armed forces" will be dedicated on Armistice Day, it was decided at a meeting of the service roll committee, Monday evening.

The dedication of the marker which will then display more than 2,200 names will be a part of the annual Armistice Day exercises to be arranged by the American Legion, it was announced.

The committee decided to give every organization and individual in the county an opportunity to contribute toward the cost of erecting and maintaining the permanent memorial to the men and women of this county who serve in the armed forces in this war.

Need More Funds
Dr. R. D. Wickerham, chairman of the steering committee which is made up of representatives of eight civic, fraternal and patriotic organizations in Gettysburg, said that contributions already amount to $590.

He estimated that "between $1,500 and $2,000" will be required to erect the memorial, have the name plates made and have a fund left over to cover the cost of adding future names and maintaining the weather-proof, glass front case which will enclose the thousands of names.

Total Cost Uncertain
The main section of the honor roll will accommodate 1,600 names. That figure already has been passed and the committee is arranging for the construction of two "wings," similar to the main section, each holding 800 names. Final cost of the enterprise will be determined largely by the total number of names which will have to be added from time to time.

Chairman Wickerham said that local residents or organizations who wish to contribute to the project should give their donations to Mrs. Henrietta Blocher, secretary-treasurer of the committee. C. Arthur Brame and Edward Culver of the general committee were named to set up arrangements in every county town for receipt of contributions.

October 1 was set as the deadline for contributions.

Only For Adams Countians
The committee decided Monday evening that only those who serve in the armed forces will be placed on the board.

To be eligible for a place on the roll of honor, a person must have given Adams county as his home address on or since December 7, 1941. The county residence must have occurred during the period of service in the armed forces, the committee ruled. The names will be in alphabetical order, last name first.

Those present at the committee meeting besides, Doctor Wickerham were: James Shenk of the Lions; Rufus Bushman of the Elks; C. Arthur Brame of the American Legion; Miss Mary Ramer of the Soroptimists; Edward Culver of the Moose and G. Henry Roth of the Rotary club.

Firemen To Hold Drill At 6:30 P. M.

Fire Chief James A. Aumen asked members of the fire company to report at the engine house this evening at 6:30 o'clock for a fire drill to be held at the brickyard.

The chief also announced that delegates from this town to the county firemen's convention at East Berlin next Monday should report at the engine house on East Middle street by 9 o'clock that morning.

REDS PUSHING NAZIS BEYOND TAGANROG PORT

London, Aug. 31 (AP)—The Soviet Army captured the town of Yelna, 45 miles east of Smolensk, in an important advance toward the northern bastion of the German line in Russia, a Moscow broadcast said today.

London, Aug. 31 (AP)—Red Army cavalry and tank units which sheared off the southern anchor of the German lines at Taganrog on the Sea of Azov were reported advancing steadily today to threaten the seaport of Mariupol, 75 miles to the west, and the industrial city of Stalino, 70 miles to the northwest.

One report from the front said the Russians have already moved more than halfway to Mariupol after taking Taganrog.

Remnants of the Taganrog garrison, trapped by Russian forces which drove through to the coast some 28 miles west of the city, meanwhile were being methodically wiped out, a Soviet communique said.

Retake 15 Towns
Triumphantly the Russians announced that 15 populated places had been recaptured in the great victory which threatened the whole German right wing and proclaimed that the entire Rostov region had now been liberated from the Nazi invaders.

The capture of Taganrog followed the same general pattern as the pincers movements which resulted in the fall of the German bastions of Orel and Kharkov earlier this summer.

German broadcasts dismissed the defeat as a "strategic withdrawal"—the same terms used to describe the fall of Kharkov—and said military installations had been destroyed in the face of the Russian advance.

Taganrog is the sixth major German stronghold to fall to the Russian armies since they turned the abortive German push which started July 5 in the central sector into a Red Army offensive.

Orel, the first to fall, was quickly followed by Belgorod and Karachev. After stubborn resistance the Nazis lost Kharkov and a new push in the central sector encompassed Sevsk.

Steady Advance
Action on other fronts found the Soviet drive on Bryansk, important rail junction and German base 200 miles southwest of Moscow, gaining momentum with the Russian communique announcing gains of six to 13 miles and the capture of 50 villages.

Russian columns pushing on from Kharkov apparently were meeting stiff German resistance. The Nazis launched a counter-attack with large forces from Lyubotin, 17 miles west of the city, the Russians said, but it was smashed and the Soviet troops pushed on, establishing new positions.

The Russian bulletin said that at no place in the Kharkov sector were the Germans any closer than 20 miles to the city.

REACHES ENGLAND
A V-mail letter today informed Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Galbraith, West Middle street, that their son, Lloyd, Jr., a first class seaman, has arrived safely in England. It was the first word the family had from the sailor in six weeks. He entered the service March 15 and trained at Balmbridge, Maryland; Norfolk, New York and Boston.

Entire Train Blown Up By Allied Fliers

By NOLAND NORGAARD
Allied Headquarters in North Africa, Aug. 31 (AP)—Newly-massed concentrations of enemy fighters battled U. S. Marauder bombers and escorting Lightnings yesterday in the bitterest combat of the air war over Italy.

The medium bombers blasted railroad yards at Aversa north of Naples.

Seventy to 75 Germans and Italians jumped the Allied fleets near the coast and over the target, and a great running battle continued afterward more than 100 miles out to sea, with the Axis losing 17 planes.

Airfield Near Rome Blasted
Flying Fortresses meantime smacked the Viterbo airfield north of Rome with a heavy rain of bombs, Allied headquarters announced today.

Formations of Mitchells with Lightning escort and RAF Wellingtons staged a day and night assault on freight yards at Civita Vecchia northwest of Rome.

Other medium, light and fighter bombers raided railway objectives in southern Italy during the day, and fighter-bombers struck at communications in Sardinia.

In all, 21 enemy planes were downed, with 15 Allied aircraft reported missing.

• The Fortresses, meeting comparatively light opposition, strewed bombs throughout dispersal areas at the Strategist Viterbo airfield 40 miles above Rome, leaving hangars and other buildings in flames. They shot down two enemy planes.

Score Direct Hits
At Civita Vecchia, a rail junction for the Rome-Leghorn route and industrial town of Terni, the Mitchells knocked out tracks in the northwest section and scored direct hits on the railroad station, warehouses, and locomotive sheds.

Night-flying Wellingtons guided by their fires followed up in two sharp attacks, dumping two-ton blockbusters to create a terrible scene of explosions and fires.

An entire train north of the town blew up, and chemical works and the transformer station suffered direct hits. The glow from the fires was bright enough to be visible to other Wellingtons in the Sardinia area 120 miles away. All the Wellingtons and Mitchells returned safely.

Nazi Claims
(The Italian communique, broadcast by Rome and recorded by the Associated Press, said 40 Allied planes were downed over the Rome and Naples area. The German radio said Nazi fighters destroyed 26 out of 60 attacks near Naples.

(German planes in a new attack on Augusta harbor in Sicily damaged an Allied merchant ship and hit several landing barges, the Italians added.)

Mr. Churchill Hints a Third Front In War

Quebec, Aug. 31 (AP)—Prime Minister Winston Churchill said in an address today that the recent conference here was concerned principally with "inflaming" the war against Japan, with whom Russia is at peace, and that therefore it would have been an embarrassment to the Soviet Union to have been represented.

The British premier said, however, that it was hoped soon to hold a United Nations conference at which the Soviet would be represented.

Such a unity of decision between the three great opponents of "Hitlerite tyranny" would be greatly desirable, he said.

Churchill said he did not blame Russia for any criticism it had leveled at its Allies for not having opened a second front on the continent.

Second Front Coming
He said that whenever a second front was opened on the continent it would be done only when there was every chance of military success and would not be swayed by political considerations.

Italy, he said, was paying a "terrible penalty" for having been misled by the Germans.

The terrific aerial attack against Germany, Churchill said, would not have been possible without the magnificent stand of the Russians against Hitler's forces.

No country, he declared, ever had withstood such a devastating attack as that thrown at the Russians.

"Wages of Sin"
The fate of King Boris of Bulgaria, he pointed out, might serve as a warning to other rulers that "the wages of sin is death."

At present, Churchill pointed out, Britain's principal activity against (Please Turn to Page 2)

Whistles, Bells To Open War Bond Drive

"Every whistle in Adams county will be blown and every bell will be rung continuously for one minute beginning at 9 o'clock Thursday morning, September 9th, to announce the official opening of this county's drive for $2,134,100 in the Third War Bond campaign.

Edmund W. Thomas, chairman of the Adams County War Finance committee, today announced that he was addressing a letter to each community chairman requesting that he arrange to have every whistle sounded and every bell rung for one minute in his community at that hour.

It will sound the official opening of the drive to be conducted through September 30. After that opening "gong" more than 200 workers will start a thorough canvass of the county in an attempt to exceed Adams county's quota in the campaign.

LOCKER SYSTEM FILM IS SHOWN

A motion picture film showing the operation of refrigerated locker systems similar to that proposed for Gettysburg by the Arctic Locker System company of York was shown members of the Gettysburg Lions club at their weekly dinner meeting, Monday evening, at Mrs. Smith's restaurant, by M. H. Chronister of the Arctic System.

The film showed how meats and other foods are pre-frozen and processed before being placed in the customers' lockers and indicated all of the services performed by the locker plants.

Elmer Schriver, member of the club's committee for Troop 77 of the Boy Scouts of Gettysburg, presented the troop's annual report which was prepared by Jack Cessna, the scoutmaster. The report showed a marked increase in troop membership and indicated troop training and activities in addition to the services performed for the community by the scouts during the last year.

The report was accepted by the clubmen with a vote of appreciation to Scoutmaster Cessna "for the splendid job he is doing." The troop is sponsored jointly by the local Rotary and Lions clubs.

The Lions voted to omit their meeting next week on Labor Day and discussed plans for the joint meeting with the local Rotarians Monday, September 13. Twenty-five Lions and guests attended.

OFFICERS AND PREXYS MEET

Captain John R. Coshey, commanding officer of the 55th College Training Detachment ("Aircrew") Army Air Corps, and Dr. Henry W. A. Hanson president of Gettysburg college will attend a conference of commanding officers and college presidents of central Pennsylvania at Dickinson college, Carlisle, September 10th.

The conference was called by Major John D. Hartigan, commanding the Dickinson college detachment.

The commanding officers will hold a conference in the morning while the college presidents will be in similar session. Following noon mess and a review of the Dickinson detachment the officers and presidents will hold a joint conference.

Also attending the conference which will be the first joint meeting, will be representatives of the Third Service Command, Material Command and the Eastern Flying Training Command.

Problems relating to the college training program will be discussed and views on meeting these problems exchanged, Major Hartigan said. The conferees have been invited by Brig. Gen. Addison D. Davis to visit Carlisle Barracks while at Carlisle.

Colleges to be represented include Dickinson, Lafayette, Gettysburg, Kutztown State Teachers, Albright, Susquehanna, Penn State, Bucknell Junior, and Williamsport-Dickinson Seminary.

ADVANCED TO MAJOR

George W. Webb, Gettysburg, has been advanced from captain to major, according to an announcement by the War Department.

Entire villages wiped out

Children too small to walk killed by a kick. Males from 14 to 50 deported to unknown destinations in sealed trucks. Children up to 13 years, women and all over 50 deported to the Majdanek death camp in the Lublin district, where they were slaughtered in masses.

"As recently as July 2 and 5 of this year, Banacyk said, two trains of 30 cars each, with 100 persons per car, arrived at Majdanek and on each of those days more than 3,000 persons were murdered in gas chambers.

Pleasure Driving Ban Off At Midnight; Ask Motorists To Save Fuel

Washington, Aug. 31 (AP)—The fear of being stopped and asked "where yuh going and why?" no longer will haunt motorists in the northeastern shortage area after tonight.

The pleasure driving ban, enforced since last May 20 by diverting guilty drivers of gasoline ration coupons, is being lifted at midnight. From then on it's up to the individual motorist and his own conscience.

In announcing that drivers no longer will be stopped for questioning, the Office of Price Administration and the Petroleum Administration for War emphasized that the action should not be interpreted as meaning there is more gasoline available for civilians.

"It should be realized by all," the two agencies said, "that unrestricted pleasure driving is out as long as gasoline is needed for our fighting forces."

The ban on non-essential driving saved gasoline, the statement said, but it involved stopping cars on highways and this "caused much protest." In addition, there were enforcement difficulties.

"It has therefore been determined," the statement went on, "to rely on patriotism of the car owners and to discontinue stopping cars on the highway to determine the purpose for which they are being used. The holders of ration coupons will be expected to use no more gasoline than is absolutely necessary to meet their essential needs. It will be left however to the car owner to determine in his own mind and conscience what is essential driving."

To Enter State Chess Tournament

J. W. Stevenson, Orrtanna, is entering the Pennsylvania chess tournament at Pittsburgh, September 4, 5 and 6. Mr. Stevenson is representing Gettysburg in this tournament and said that he will make an attempt to have next year's tournament held at Gettysburg.

Mr. Stevenson has not had much "over the board" practice since gas rationing started but has been playing "correspondence" chess under the auspices of the Correspondence Chess League of America.

He is at present playing 18 games with opponents in California, Texas, Indiana, Wisconsin, Vermont, Virginia and New York. He says that "mail order chess" is very interesting and believes that it is improving his game.

NAZI POSITION IN RUSSIA NOW IS WORST EVER

By DEWITT MACKENZIE

Never since Hitler broke his pledged word and attacked Russia has the position of his armies on the eastern front been so precarious as it has become with the loss of his right wing anchor—Taganrog, on the Sea of Azov.

That right wing is now like a pennant on a flag-pole, its fluttering loose end subject to the winds that sweep across it. Of course, that's a very unimpressive and exaggerated figure of speech, but it will have served its purpose if it emphasizes the danger of the Nazi position.

Having taken this major stronghold, which is one of the vital parts of the gateway to the oil fields of the Caucasus, the Red Army today is reported crushing its way steadily westward along the coast of the Sea of Azov. Small wonder that Marshal Stalin ordered a 124 gun salute in Moscow in honor of the Red Army, while all Russia exulted in the prowess of their men at arms.

Two Nasty Alternatives

The fall of Taganrog was effected by the application of a pair of great pincers to the Hun line. The Reds thrust fiercely into the German defenses 40 miles above Taganrog and started a turning movement southward towards that port. Meantime, another Russian force was smashing directly at the Nazi anchor from the east. The Hitlerites had to run or be surrounded.

Similar turning movements are being driven into the German line as far north as the Kharkov area, and some 800,000 Nazi troops are in danger of encirclement. Thus Hitler's whole southern wing is being forced back, as has been forecast so many times in this column in recent weeks. Having been torn loose from its Taganrog anchor, the Fuehrer now is faced with two nasty alternatives:

1. He must stage a heavy counter-attack in the Donets basin to the north of Taganrog and fling the Reds back, thus restoring his previous positions.

2. Failing in this, he must continue his withdrawal until his whole vast front from the Sea of Azov northward to Leningrad, a distance of more than a thousand miles, has been pulled back under fierce Russian attack to the line of the great Dnieper river.

If the Germans have the strength they may be expected to counter-attack. I was chatting on this point with my colleague, General H. S. Sewell, the distinguished British military expert, and he remarked that "heavy counter-attacks must be expected in the Donets, and failure in this respect may well be regarded as a sign of Nazi weakness."

That seems to sum the matter up neatly. If the invaders don't counter-attack, or if they make the attempt and fail, it will be significant as showing that the German war machine has lost a tremendous amount of that awful striking power which long terrified the world.

Fall Weather Near

Should the Germans be forced to retire to the line of the Dnieper, one would expect them to make a back-to-the-wall stand to hold the Crimea. If you will refer to your maps (don't tell me that you haven't got them out) you will see that the Dnieper bulges out to the east, just north of the Crimea. You will note, too, that there's a railway which touches the point of this bulge by Zaporozhe and runs south through Melitopol into the Crimea.

It's logical to expect the Germans to try to hold along that railway, if they get pushed back that far. Should they be unable to maintain this position they would lose the Crimea, and the Black sea once more would be opened up in the north to the Russians—a grand windfall for the Reds. Meanwhile Herr Hitler has all but lost his last toe-hold on the rich Donets basin, with its coal and far-reaching wheat fields.

To complete the picture we should recognize that the fall rains are near in Russia, and their arrival will slow the Russian operations. As a matter of fact one would think the Reds must be about due for a breather after their sensational exertions.

PROPERTIES SOLD

The real estate of the late Charles D. Sell was sold at public sale on Saturday afternoon by the heirs-at-law, Roger K. Sell, C. Gordon Sell, Elizabeth H. Garrett and Holman L. Sell. Tract No. 1 consisted of a tract of land in Germany township, located at the eastern edge of Littlestown borough, on the Littlestown-Hanover highway, consisting of 103 acres of land. The farm is improved with a 10-room brick dwelling, bank barn, wagon shed and other outbuildings. The tract also includes building lots fronting on East King street. The purchasers were I. H. Crouse and Sons, Littlestown contractors. The price paid was $17,900. Tract No. 2 consisted of woodland in Union township, including four acres and 62 perches. This was purchased by Richard Brown, Union township, for $250. The auctioneer was J. Arthur Boyd.

Weddings

Frailay—Jones

St. Stephens Episcopal church, Richmond, Virginia, was recently the scene of the wedding of Miss Anne Moore Jones, daughter of Mrs. Bernard M. Jones, of Richmond, and Captain Carson Gray Frailay, United States Army, son of Mr. and Mrs. Carson Peter Frailay, of Washington, D. C., and Emmitsburg.

The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Giles B. Palmer.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her cousin, Turner Henley, wore a wedding dress of ivory satin fashioned with a heart-shaped neckline, tight bodice and full skirt ending with a long train. Her veil of illusion fell from a cap of duchesse lace. She carried a prayer book from which fell a shower of white orchids and swainsons.

Miss Beverly Jones was her sister's maid of honor. She wore a costume of green taffeta with a matching cap and carried a bouquet of yellow flowers.

Miss Ann Cowardin and Miss Jean Ellison were the bridesmaids. They wore dresses of parma violet taffeta with matching velvet caps and carried bouquets of pastel summer flowers.

Captain Frailay had as his best man his father. The bridegroomsmen were Dr. Bryan Murphy, of Baltimore, Robert McNell, Jr., of Chestnut Hill, Pa., and Major Allen Barrow, of Savannah, Georgia.

A reception followed the ceremony at the Country club of Virginia, after which Captain and Mrs. Frailay left for a trip to Nantucket, Rhode Island.

Lenhardt—Clime

Miss Mary Alice Clime, Lancaster, and John J. Lenhardt, Lancaster, a second-year student at the Lutheran Theological seminary, were united in marriage in the Church of the Abiding Presence at the seminary, Sunday afternoon at 4 o'clock. The Rev. Dr. Clarence G. Leatherman, Hummelstown, performed the ceremony in the presence of relatives and friends.

A reception was held for members of the families and friends, after which the couple left on a short wedding trip. Mr. Lenhardt will resume his studies when the seminary opens on Wednesday.

Engagement

Goble—Sell

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Sell, of Biglerville, announce the engagement of their daughter, Miss Mildred Elizabeth Sell, to William David Goble, son of the late Rev. Dr. and Mrs. William O. Goble, of Cambridge, Massachusetts.

Miss Sell was graduated from Biglerville high school and Gettysburg college, class of 1939, and received her degree in Library-Science from Syracuse university in May. She returns to Biglerville high school for the fourth year with the opening of the fall term. She will be a teacher-librarian this year.

Mr. Goble was graduated from Syracuse university in August and enters Andover Newton Theological school this month. He is a student pastor at the First Presbyterian church of Boston.

No date has been set for the wedding.

DEATH

Charles Irvin Keene

Charles Irvin Keene, 62, of York, formerly of East Berlin, was killed instantly last Friday morning when his car collided head-on with a bus north of York on the Susquehanna trail.

York County Coroner L. U. Zech was told that the accident was due to the oily condition of the highway. It was disclosed that Mr. Keene, who was on a business errand from Strinestown to Newberrytown, was proceeding down the steep grade just prior to crossing the Camp Ganoga bridge, and applied the brakes to slow his car, but in doing so, the auto skidded, making a complete circle, into the path of the oncoming bus. In the resulting collision Mr. Keene was pinned beneath the driver's seat and steering wheel, dying instantly from a crushed chest and internal injuries.

Mr. Keene and his family made their home some years ago on Harrisburg street, East Berlin, during which time Mr. Keene was superintendent of the Lasant and Lasant Manufacturing company, then operating there. Since their removal to York, the family were frequent visitors to East Berlin. At the time of his death, Mr. Keene was employed as a guard at the A. B. Farquhar company, York, and also as an agent for the Edjo company, of Allentown. He was a member of the Holy Name society of St. Rose of Lima Catholic church, York, and of the Loyal Order of Moose.

Surviving are his widow, Mrs. Elsie M. Keene; one daughter, Mrs. Albert Stauffer, York; his mother, Mrs. Mary Keene, Pottstown, five brothers and two sisters.

Funeral services took place this morning with a high requiem mass at St. Rose of Lima church, with the assistant pastor, the Rev. Stephen J. Dady, officiating.

MANY TARGETS IN NAZI AREA ARE LAMBASTED

London, Aug. 31 (AP)—Following up a heavy RAF attack on the Rhineland, American Marauders today raided a German airfield at Lille-Vanderville in France and a power station at Mazingurbe, France.

Headquarters of the Eighth American Air Force called the attacks "successful."

One fighter from the RAF, Allied and Dominion Spitfire escort which accompanied the bombers was listed as missing.

Preliminary reports showed three enemy fighters were destroyed.

Mighty fleets of heavy and medium bombers roared across the continent to bring the fourth year of the war to a thunderous close.

28 Bombers Lost

The war-busy industrial cities of Muenchen-Gladbach and Rheydts were hammered by the RAF bombers last night, a communique announced, while Mosquito bombers raided Duisburg at the same time, ending a two-day lull in the aerial offensive.

Twenty-eight bombers were lost. A virtual unbroken procession of raiders began drumming across the coast at daybreak close on the heels of the massive RAF sweep against the sprawling Rhineland industrial area.

German broadcasts reported 25 raiders shot down and said Muenchen-Gladbach and Rheydts had been especially hard hit.

Other targets in France and the low countries were also attacked during the night's operations.

Muenchen-Gladbach and Rheydts are twin cities 18 miles west of Duesseldorf in one of Germany's greatest war factory belts.

Viennese Panicky

(Vienna dispatches to the Swedish newspapers today said that residents of that city were in a panic as fear of new Allied aerial attacks mounted.

Refugees from Hamburg who have arrived in Vienna added to the unrest, the dispatches stated, with stories of the devastation caused when the city was all but wiped out.)

As the day wore on heavy aerial traffic continued across the English Channel, with the Allied raiders heading again for France, Belgium and the Netherlands. Nazi airfields apparently were the chief targets of the daylight shuttle operations.

POPULARITY OF PLAYGROUND AT NEW HIGH HERE

More than 1,000 more Gettysburg children attended the playground during the season which closed Saturday than during last year, Fred P. Haehnlen, supervisor of the playground, told the Rotary club Monday evening at its meeting at the YWCA.

The playground was open for 10 weeks this year, one week longer than during its initial season last summer. Attendance at the grounds was 30 per cent higher than last year, Haehnlen asserted.

Attendance during the last 10 weeks was 8,504 as compared with 5,900 last year, Mr. Haehnlen said. The 30 per cent increase is the greatest we will ever have unless the town increases in size, Mr. Haehnlen predicted.

Sports Popular

The increase came about despite the fact that many of the older children who used the grounds during the early part of the summer later took jobs picking peaches or other work and many children in the northern end of town played at the SCA grounds there instead of attending the play center at the high school, the supervisor reported.

"A decrease in daily attendance was noted as soon as the peach thinning season began," Mr. Haehnlen asserted. Attendance during the last week was only about 600.

One of the most popular sports was softball with the high school age boys playing two nights a week, pre-high school age boys playing two nights and the girls playing one night a week. "Not one day went by without a baseball game," he said.

"Jungle Jim" a Favorite

The new "Jungle Jim" was one of the most popular pieces of equipment at the playground and the smaller youngsters used the small slide purchased this year to advantage.

The craftsmanship program, including clay modeling and model airplane building, proved very popular, the supervisor said.

Mr. Haehnlen and Miss Arlene Plank, assistant playground supervisor, were guests of the Rotary.

Paul Kinsey, head of the Rotary playground committee and chairman of the Gettysburg Recreation board, reported on Rotary's part in sponsoring the playground.

London, Aug. 31 (AP)—Leaflets have been distributed in Rome calling on the people to go on a 15-minute strike at 10 a. m. tomorrow, standing silently with arms crossed, the Rome radio said today.

Upper Communities

Mr. and Mrs. Charles R. Pryor had as visitors Sunday at their home in Bendersville Mrs. Pryor's mother, Mrs. W. M. Ritenour and sons, Paul and Corporal Elmer, and daughter, Janice, all of Martinsburg, West Virginia, and Miss Dixie Mason, Washington, D. C.

Nicholas Meyer, of Biglerville, has returned from Camp Susquehanna, near New Milford, where he spent the summer.

Mr. and Mrs. John W. Bringham, of Carlisle, spent the week-end with Mr. Bringham's grandfather, John H. Deatrick and Mrs. Deatrick, of Biglerville.

Miss Marian Thomas, of Biglerville, spent Monday in Harrisburg.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Kline and son, Barry, of Penn Valley, have returned home after a visit with Mrs. Kline's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Emory E. Raffensperger, of Biglerville.

Mrs. Claude Miller, of Biglerville, is spending several days in Baltimore.

Mrs. S. Gray Bigham, of Biglerville, is spending a few days in Paxtang with her sisters, the Misses Rutherford.

Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Walter and son, Frederic, of York, spent the week-end with Mr. and Mrs. Philip Houck, of Centre Mills, and with Mr. Walter's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert C. Walter, of Biglerville.

Dr. and Mrs. R. W. Eicholtz, Syracuse, New York, are visiting relatives in The Narrows and Arendtsville.

PURPLE HEART FOR COUNTIAN

PFC Ralph E. Straley, son of Mr. and Mrs. James G. Straley, Littlestown R. D. 2, who was wounded in action in the southwest Pacific area on July 27, has been awarded the Purple Heart medal. The young man forwarded the medal to his parents, who received it last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Straley were notified by the War department on August 13 that their son had been "seriously wounded." Since then they have received three letters from their son, all written after he was hurt. The first two letters, written on August 3 and 8, did not mention that he had been wounded but stated that he was "resting" and planned to join his outfit soon.

On Saturday, Mr. and Mrs. Straley received a third letter, written on Sunday, Aug. 15. In it their son previous letters that he had seen stated he had not told them in his active service and was "slightly" wounded. He told them not to worry, explaining that while he had not yet returned to his outfit he was working. PFC Straley wrote that he attended church services on Friday, Aug. 13.

In his last letter, PFC Straley mentioned that he had received the Purple Heart medal and that he had sent it home. The medal was received several days before the letter.

San Juan, capital of Puerto Rico, has a population of 170,000.

Arendtsville

Mrs. Mary Smelser and grandson, Richard Smelser, left today for Altoona where they will visit relatives for a few days.

Mr. and Mrs. Newton Schell, Mrs. Doyle Mierley and son, Paul, of Altoona, visited relatives in town on Monday.

Prof. and Mrs. Charles Smith and two sons moved today from the Pius Orner apartments to Benton, Pa.

William H. Raffensperger, of Piney Mountain, a former resident here, purchased the Joseph Dillon farm at public sale on Saturday.

RURAL SCHOOL LACKS TEACHER; FIRST TO CLOSE

Edge Grove school, popularly known as Spangler's, in Mt. Joy township was ordered closed Monday evening by the Mt. Joy school directors at a special session at the Two Taverns school house.

The school was closed, the board said, because it was impossible to obtain a teacher for the building. The school was closed until victory and will be reopened then if a teacher can be secured.

The case was the first in the county in which the shortage of teachers has forced the closing of a school. Most of the school districts have reported so far that they have been able to replace regular teachers with retired teachers who are coming back into the profession during the war.

The 14 pupils at Edge Grove school will be transported to Barr's (Oak Grove) and Horner's schools.

To Save $600 Per Year

Teachers were assigned to the schools. Mrs. Ralph Baker will be in charge of White Run school; Mrs. Parhamer at Two Taverns; Mrs. Barbara C. Steick, Fairview; Mrs. Claire Davis, Pleasant Grove; Mrs. Naomi Schwartz, Barr's (Oak Grove); Miss Margaret S. Benner, Horner's, and Aldes Frantz and Mrs. Mabel Piper at Hoffman's Orphanage.

Closing of the Spangler's school will save the township about $600 during the coming year, Charles M. A. Shildt, secretary of the board, reported. The cost of keeping the school open would have been about $1,500, he said. Two of the township's schools will have been painted by the opening of school, September 7. White Run has been painted and work has been begun on the Two Taverns school.

The Mt. Joy township paid off a $5,000 debt and ended the year with a $1,465.42 balance during the past year, Mr. Shildt said. This year marks the first time in 18 years the school district has been out of debt.

Dane, Uncowed

Already the Danes, besides sinking their own fleet, have blown up all Danish-manned fortifications except those at Middelgrunet. Here, however, the garrison threw all its ammunition into the sea before the Germans had an opportunity to seize it.

Telephone cable and mail communications between Denmark remained severed today.

A never-ending stream of refugees—men, women, and children—carrying only a few scattered belongings, poured into Sweden throughout Sunday. They came in rowboats, motorboats and small sailing craft. Scores were reported drowned as German Naval craft shelled boats which refused to halt and turn back.

He expressed extreme confidence in Vice Admiral Lord Louis Mountbatten, the new Allied commander in chief in that theatre.

To Free France

"Quebec was the very place for the two great powers of the sea and of the air to resolve and shape plans to bring their large and growing army into closer contact and fiercer grips with the common foe," Churchill declared.

In Quebec, the capital and heart of French Canada, he continued "it is right to think of the French people in their agony, to set on book new measures for their deliverance."

"We may be sure that France will rise again, freed, united and independent to stand on guard with others over the generous tolerances and brightening opportunities of the human society we mean to rescue and rebuild."

Any speculation on when the war would end Churchill described as "vain and unprofitable." Churchill completed his address at 1:30 p. m.

"Calligula with his mass tortures, and killings; Alaric and his Goths; Genseric and his vandals; Attila and his Huns—they all were pikers in barbarism as compared with the one and only Hitler, prize brute of all time."

"Hitler must be brought to the bar of justice. To justice, also,

"But beware of them when they're cornered. They'll stop at nothing to elude the just fate that awaits them. They'll try poison gas, tricks, subterfuges, lies, treachery, deceit—anything to escape."

"They must not escape. They must be hunted down and trapped. They must be brought into court. They must be tried, convicted and given the extreme limit in penalties. No punishment can be too severe. Cardinals Show Signs Of Slowing Up In Dividing; Yankees Win 13th Series

By JUDSON BAILEY
The Associated Press

A month ago the St. Louis Cardinals were being talked of as probable favorites in the world series, but if the annual classic were opening now the New York Yankees almost certainly would be odds-on choices.

The Yankees have been picking up momentum on the home stretch while the Cardinals have been slowing down. The difference between them was shown again yesterday when the Yankees beat the Boston Red Sox 3-1 while St. Louis split a doubleheader with the Pittsburgh Pirates in the only games played in the major leagues.

The Pirates won the opener, 4-3, but the Cardinals came back with an 8-3 triumph.

At New York Rookie Charley Wensloff pitched four-hit ball and Roy (Stormy) Weatherly punched the winning ticket with a two-run homer, his third in two days.

Brilliant Record
This gave the Yanks their 13th consecutive series and a record of having won 42 out of 59 games since the streak started on July 5.

They now have plenty of power and good fielding along with the best pitching in the major leagues with a staff led by Spud Chandler, Ernie Bonham and Wensloff. Chandler has won 17 games, and Bonham and Wensloff each 12.

The Cardinals have their spectacular speed and sharp hitting, but their fielding has faltered and their pitching has become uncertain.

In losing four of their last six games they have made 11 errors, five yesterday and at least one in every contest.

They made 11 hits in the tenning first game with the Pirates and 13 in the nightcap, but Rookie Alpha Brazle, who had not been beaten in any of his previous National league starts, gave Pittsburgh a dozen blows in the opener and his teammates made three critical errors.

Harry Brecheen held the Buccaneers to eight safeties in the second game and the Redbirds wrapped up the decision with a five-run flurry in the third inning.

NEW RULES FOR PIAA FOOTBALL ARE DISCUSSED

Harrisburg, Aug. 31 (AP)—Those forward passes nobody is supposed to catch won't be so costly to Pennsylvania high school football teams this season.

Intentional forward pass incompletions will be classed merely as illegal forward passes—the most radical change in the new gridiron rules, in the opinion of Frank P. Maguire, Pennsylvania Interscholastic Athletic Association commissioner on officials.

The penalty for such a play will be loss of a down and five yards from the spot of the pass, said Maguire, now touring the state to hold clinics for PIAA officials and coaches. Last year the distance penalty was 15 yards from the spot of the snap from center.

If the intentional incomplection is made in a team's own end zone it is a safety, Maguire explained, although the safety may be declined. Last year this was the only safety resulting from a foul which could not be declined.

The new rules also eliminate one type of freak touchdown and make possible a field goal at the kick-off, but Maguire said he doubted if either change would have much effect on scoring. He explained the two changes this way:

Early Field Goal
1—If a free kick without any new impulse is in touch behind the receiver's goal line it is dead and results in a touchback—not a touchdown as under rules of many past years.

2—If the kicker succeeds in booting the ball over the cross bar at the kick-off it is a field goal and, like any other, scores three points. Among other rule changes listed by the commissioner:

1—Penalty for fair catch interference is loss of 15 yards to the kicking team from the previous spot; or the receivers may choose an awarded fair catch in which instance there is no distance penalty as was the case last year.

Rules On Line-men
2—There are 17 possible rule infractions, any one of which may occur before, or simultaneously with, the snap from center, and six which may occur at the time of a free kick. For all these fouls, with the exception of off-sides, the ball will remain dead.

3—An ineligible linesman—any of the five players between the two ends—may receive a ball handed forward if he has turned and faced his goal by turning both feet and is at least one yard behind the line.

4—The kicking team may advance any kick which it recovers behind the line.

Eastern League

(By The Associated Press)
The battle for play-off berths in the Eastern league continues with six teams in the thick of the scramble.

Binghamton dropped from fourth to sixth place last night, while Hartford, continuing its steady climb from the second division, advanced from fifth to fourth. At the same time the Wilkes-Barre Barons climbed from sixth to fifth place.

The big noise last night was the spectacular 23-1 victory the cellar-dwelling Utica Braves scored over the Springfield Rifles, in the first game of a doubleheader. Not content, the Braves continued and took the nightcap, 8-4.

In other games last night the Hartford Laurels beat Albany, 7-0; Elmira defeated Scranton, 3-1, and Wilkes-Barre won over Binghamton, 6-1.

SPANGLER TO COACH
Charles M. Spangler, one-time standout athlete at York High and later at Gettysburg college, was elected recently by the Red Lion school board to serve as high school athletic coach and physical education instructor to replace Charles Nitchkey, recently inducted into the Navy.

New Women's Trapshoot Champion

Miss Florence Mos, 33, Cincinnati, Ohio, bookkeeper, after four years of trying, won the Women's North American Clay Target championship at Vandalia, Ohio. She broke 192 out of 200 targets in the regular event, then cracked 23 out of 25 in a shoot-off.

SPORTS ROUNDUP

By HUGH FULLERTON, JR.

Bear Mountain, N. Y., Aug. 31 (AP)—If you don't think its appropriate that bears should be an important topic of conversation up here where the Giants and Dodgers are getting ready for the pro football season, you should have seen Steve Owen in a cage with a couple of them yesterday. . . . Someone had the idea that it would be a natural hook-up for pictures—Bear Mountain and the Giants' exhibition against those big bad Chicago Bears at Buffalo Sunday. Get it? . . .

Anyway, Steve and Tuffy Leemans, who's spherical Steve's only assistant this season, consented to pose with a couple of roly-poly black bear cubs. . . . They're cute little fellas," Owen admitted as he came out with his not inconsiderable area of skin undamaged. . . . And he and Tuffy agreed the Giants will be lucky to do as well Sunday. . . . Just then the naturalist in charge of the Interstate Park zoo came along. . . . "We have a nice tame skunk, too," he remarked. "No, thanks," said Steve. "We've got enough pictures."

BEAR FACTS

Consensus around the two football camps is that the Bears and the Green Bay Packers, as usual, will be the teams to beat in the National league this season and that Washington's Redskins won't be so troublesome unless Sammy Baugh's pitching form improves over his all-star game showing. . . . "We have a better team than last year and the others will be coming back to us," commented Leemans. . . . "The Bears only have two yards—year, Danny Fortmann and George Musso—they've got Bronk Nagurski back; he'll be playing tackle and he'll probably play in his own territory. . . . and they still have Bulldog Turner at center."

Tuffy seemed to be having a rather hard time keeping an optimistic grin on his face—especially when he compared Turner to the Giants' collection of rookie centers.

JUST A SUGGESTION
Ward Cuff, in his seventh pro season still one of the Giants' best backs, brought his wife and two small girls—about three or four years old—to camp with him. . . . After watching them in action for a while Owen decided that, if worst came to worst, he could put them in against the Bears and it wouldn't take long to wear down that Chicago line.

PRO-GRAM NOTES
The Dodgers, who started late and without very bright prospects, got quite a lift yesterday when Ben Kish and George Cafego, a couple of better than average veteran backs, reported unexpectedly. . . . Both have been discharged from the Army for physical disabilities that won't prevent their playing pro football. . . . Up to that time Bruiser Kinard had been virtually the only veteran in camp. . . . Pete Cawthon, New Dodger coach, probably is the loudest tutor in the league. He never seems to stop for breath as he works his players—and by work Pete means just that. . . . Hugh (Sorty) Ray, who drew up the pro rules, was on hand for his annual interpretation lecture and talked at some length on the virtues of running plays quickly. . . . Shortly once timed the Bears at an average of 27½ seconds a play. The next week they brought it down to 22½ seconds—and beat the Redskins on a series of plays that never would have been run off at the former pace.

TRAVEL NOTE
In case any of the pro teams think travel is tough this year, they should ask Halfback Babe Webb, who is expected momentarily in the Green Bay camp. . . . Babe played in the Hawaiian Senior league two years ago and was signed by the Packers last year. . . . He couldn't make the trip in time for the season. . . . This year he started out to travel by Clipper plane but his passage was cancelled and he had to take a boat instead. . . . There'll be no complaint if he has to ride in a coach seat occasionally.

PANTHERS FACE OLD TIME CARD WITH YOUNG 11

Pittsburgh, Aug. 31 (AP)—The boys who wear the moleskins may not be as big and may lack much of the experience of those who packed the pigskin for the University of Pittsburgh in bygone years, but the schedule the Panthers face next autumn will be no less ambitious.

With Notre Dame, Nebraska, Ohio State and other traditionally powerful teams already on the list, Coach Clark Shaughnessy has announced the addition of the Great Lakes Naval Training station to bring his first Panther card up to eight games.

Great Lakes, with plenty of ex-college stars ready to pick up for the Navy where they left off for alma mater, supposedly will field one of the nation's gridiron powerhouses this season.

Coach Not Worried
But that apparently is not worrying Shaughnessy, who is inculcating his famous "T" formation into the new Pitt squad and dispensing with the power plays that made Jock Sutherland the outstanding eastern coach of the '30's.

"This is not a bad looking squad," he said. "If I had it for two years I think Pitt would be okay. But these boys are just babies. They haven't maturity and we're not going to be in a class with teams using service stars."

Shaughnessy had 75 players out for summer drills and expects many more when the squad gathers for a dinner at the university cafeteria today. But, as he pointed out, too many of them are just 17-year-olds. Draft boards may further decimate the number of mature boys available.

Large Squad
"I think it's the biggest squad of civilian players in the country," he said.

At the close of summer drills he nominated this starting lineup: Ends—Joe Pierre, Windber and Clair Malarkey, Bridgeville; tackles—George Rauli, Blaw Knox and William Galand, Connellsville; guards—Francis Mattoli, Brackenridge and Gary Peniello, Connellsville; center—Donald Fisher, Williamsport; quarterback—Cy Plazak, Brackenridge; halfbacks—Carl Moss, East Orange, New Jersey, and Frank Knisley, Youngstown, Ohio, and fullback, Bill Ambromitas, Tamaqua.

Mosso, however, is 18, and may be lost to the armed services.

The team takes on Notre Dame in the season opener here September 25, and plays Great Lakes the following Saturday; the rest of the schedule: October 9, West Virginia; 16, Illinois at Champaign; 30, Carnegie Tech; November 6, Ohio State; 13, Nebraska at Lincoln; 20, Penn State.

SPORT SHORTS

Brooklyn, Aug. 31 (AP)—Gene Hermanski, young minor league outfielder who won himself a berth with the Brooklyn Dodgers while awaiting a transfer from the Coast Guard to the Navy Air force, reports for Naval duty Wednesday. He hit .288 in his 20-game stay.

New York, Aug. 31 (AP)—The New York Giants and the Philadelphia Athletics now can concentrate on the 1944 campaigns. The Giants have been mathematically eliminated from the National league race by the St. Louis Cardinals and the New York Yankees have applied the crusher to the Athletics in the American.

"Bulldog" Harris Conquers Moroney
Allentown, Pa., Aug. 31 (AP)—Ossie "Bulldog" Harris of Pittsburgh kept his left fist in Jess Moroney's face most of the time and both fists in the Harrisburg fighter's ribs the rest of the time to win a unanimous 10-round decision here last night.

There were no knockdowns. Moroney bled freely during the last two rounds from a cut over the left eye. Both men weighed 158.

In the semi-final Woody Sweeney, 134, Pittsburgh, decisioned Lucky Douglas, 134, Philadelphia in six rounds.

KNOX PROMISES BIG TOKYO RAIDS
Newport News, Va., Aug. 31 (AP)—A great name in the history of the United States Navy was reborn Monday with launching of the aircraft carrier "Hornet" amid cheers of spectators who a moment later heard Secretary of Navy Knox hint broadly at plans for large scale aerial blows against Tokyo.

Last year's bombing of the rising sun capital was "only a small sample of far bigger raids to come," Knox asserted in a speech a moment after his wife sent a bottle of champagne foaming over the bow of the ship which replaces the flat-top of the same name sunk last year in the Santa Cruz Islands.

The launching was delayed 45 minutes because of faulty functioning of the launching mechanism.

Baseball Chiefs Discuss Overseas Tour

Judge Kenesaw Mountain Landis (center), high commissioner of professional baseball, looks over a globe in his office in Chicago, Ill., as he discusses with William Harridge (left) and Ford Frick (right), presidents of the American and National baseball leagues respectively, plans for a proposed baseball tour of the battlefronts. It has been suggested that players be sent overseas to entertain soldiers and sailors.

Depleted Grid Squad At Penn

Philadelphia, Aug. 31 (AP)—University of Pennsylvania's squad of football candidates, shrunken from the 100 who were out for "spring" practice last month to the 40 Coach George Munger hopes to have all season, are practicing on River field—when they can get together.

Nearly a dozen Naval ROTC members were prevented by their weekly military drill from participating in yesterday's session, a contact drill that required shoulder pads for those who did take part.

Veterans Bob Odell and Joe Kane were working out at blocking pad and wing back respectively. John Makar, a freshman regular last year, worked in the tailback slot. Sixteen-

PHILLIES LOSE TO ROSES, 6-0

(By The Associated Press)
Whether the Lancaster Red Roses can capture the Interstate league pennant or not, they do all right for themselves in the supposedly faster company of the National league.

While Wilmington climbed into a virtual second place tie with Hagerstown, winning 4-2 at the Maryland city, the Roses administered a 6-0 lesson to the Philadelphia Phillies before 2,185 at Lancaster last night.

Manager Woody Wheaton and Les McCrabb limited the big leaguers to six hits. Lancaster touched George Eyrich, Dick Conger and Schoolboy Rowe for 11. Phillies' President William D. Cox looked on—sadly, no doubt.

Hagerstown's loss, which came on a two-run rally by the Blue Rocks in the ninth, gave Lancaster a full three-game lead in the flag race. The York White Roses augmented their fourth place lead over Trenton, meanwhile, with a 13-0 shellacking of Allentown.

Just Folks

By Edgar A. Guest

ULTIMATE WORTH

It only the triumphs come in the day when all things are clear?
man to be judged at the last as his fellows have judged him here?
there only one goal to be reached and only one way to win?
on what will be said for the ones who lose when the records of all are in?

What of those gentler souls who never quite mastered skill, so had none of the champion's strength and none of the will to kill?
ho rejoiced in the gift of life, its friendships, its laughter and song,
id were well content with the lesser joys which unto the meek belong?

Will only the scores be seen? Will grandeur alone be grand?
Will only what men call fine the praise of the Lord command?
Will they measure the distance run and the time, as is done on earth,
will laugh and love and faith be the ultimate proof of worth?

YOUR SELF OPINION

The opinion that others have of as is quite often the opinion that we have of ourselves. Self-faith is the greatest capital anyone can have! Without it one becomes a caneer, a borrower, and a mere follower—often of blind leaders.

But this good opinion that we have for ourselves should lead to neither conceit nor to a vain boasting of the good qualities that our Creator gave to us in the first place.
We must not forget that our natural gifts are not something that we have selected or developed, but gifts that came to us through the natural order of things at birth. God selects those whom he wishes to be placed in positions of responsibility and leadership. We place ourselves only as we have that self-faith in Him who created us.

All through life you will have to fall back upon that self-opinion that you own, and make it work for you.
At times it will be a difficult assignment, for you will be misjudged, misunderstood, and sometimes completely maligned. But self-faith will see you through!

Said Sir Richard Burton: "From self alone expect applause." In loneliness, and when those whom you thought your friends prove untrue, there will remain this one refuge of honest self-faith and self-opinion, to keep you steady upon your feet and clear in spiritual vision.

Expressed opinion and that which you keep locked within your heart are two different things. Little does anyone know about the debates that go on, silently, and within the confines of our own inner sanctuary.
There many a physical and spiritual battle is won. There many a triumph is enacted that has its effect upon the future course of our own lives, and often upon the lives of countless numbers of others—sometimes of the entire world!

Rarely are we advised in advance of our future tasks. Often their purpose is veiled from us until we have become ripe in heart and spirit, fit for the responsibility.
Preparation falls upon us all as the means to that happy achievement.

Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject: "On Living Simply"

Wastage in the home is estimated to cause a loss of 5 per cent of the protein, 24 per cent of the fat, and 20 per cent of the carbohydrates of all foods provided.

FIFTY YEARS AGO

Local Miscellany: The A. M. E.
Zion church, of Harrisburg, abandoned the excursion to this place last Thursday, because of the hard times.

Fifteen members of the local camp of the Sons of Veterans were camping near Harney last week.
Operations have been resumed at the copper mine on the Robert C.
Livingston farm.

Court is likely to last two weeks.
The trial is expected to occupy the most of the week.

The U. S. Commissioners intend to mark buildings on the battlefield by the names of the owners at the time of the battle. These names are historical and must be preserved to avoid confusion.

The Public Schools will begin on Friday, the 1st of September.
J. Clayton Hoke lost his best horse by death last week. Jacob Shoemaker was equally unfortunate.

The sale of Father Boll's books amounted to $175.

The drought has been broken. A drenching rain, the first for two months, arrived last evening.

One of the Electric cars was badly broken on Sunday night, at Wible's grove, by a freight car running into it.

Memorial Services: The Month's Mind services in memory of the Rev. Joseph A. Boll were held in the Catholic church on Friday. Mass was sung by Rev. T. J. Crotty, of Littletown, as celebrant; Rev. W.
J. Burke, of Locust Gap, deacon;
William E. Martin, sub-deacon, and Mr. John N. Codori, master of ceremonies. Quite a number of visiting clergymen were in attendance.

It was announced on Friday that the Rev. Joseph E. Smith has been appointed Father Boll's successor as priest in charge of the Catholic church, of this place. Father Smith assisted Father Boll during his illness and has made many friends both in and out of his congregation.

Camping Party:

The members of the Rock Creek Sociable, from the vicinity of Gettysburg, spent a most delightful week camping at Dick's dam. While encamped there, they entertained between sixty and seventy visitors. The last night they welcomed into camp S. Mc. Swope, Esq., and Wm. B. McIlhenny, from Gettysburg, who took part in the evening's sport and entertainment. There were several eloquent recitations given by a few of the members and Mr. Swope answered promptly to his name, and recited a poem. It was followed by instrumental music and a vocal solo by one of the ladies. The kindness of the Dicks family was highly appreciated.

SEPT. 15 DATE
FOR INCOME TAX
RETURN FILING

(Editor's Note: The pay-as-you-go Federal Income Tax law requires new tax returns by Sept. 15 and quarterly payments from many taxpayers whose obligations are not entirely met by deductions from their pay.
This is the first of three daily columns explaining the new requirements.)

By JAMES MARLOW and GEORGE ZIELKE

Washington, Aug. 31 (AP)—One of every three federal income taxpayers must file a new income tax return by Sept. 15.

This is a declaration of estimated 1943 income and taxes. In most cases a person who has to file such a declaration will have to send in a payment with it—and make another payment on Dec. 15.

Four classes of taxpayers must make this new report:

1. Those whose income is more than $2700 if single (or married but not living with husband or wife), or more than $3500 for a married couple, with or without dependents.
As in the past, married couples may file either joint or separate returns.

2. Persons whose income isn't subject to the withholding tax—the deductions from pay withheld by employers—under pay-as-you-go.
In this group are individuals who aren't on regular wages or salaries, also ministers, farm laborers and household servants.

There are two exceptions in this group—farmers, who have until Dec.
15 to make their report; members of the armed services, who can wait until next March 15.

3. All those whose income this year will be less than in 1942—if they were required to file an income tax return for 1942. If the 1942 income tax is greater than the estimated 1943 income and Victory taxes, the 1942 tax becomes, in effect, the 1943 tax.

4. Those who are on regular wages or salaries subject to withholding deductions but who have additional income this year from other sources totaling more than $100.

In general, the plan is to collect income and Victory taxes not being paid through deductions from pay.

All File in March

All taxpayers still will have to file a final return next March.
Those who file the declarations must do these things:

Estimate their 1943 income and figure the taxes on it (including Victory tax).

Total up how much has been deducted and will be deducted (if anything) for federal income and Victory taxes from their wages or salaries in all of 1943.

Add up the payments they made in March and June of this year on their 1942 taxes.

Two Kinds of Work Sheets

These two amounts—the total withheld from pay and the tax payments in March and June—are to be deducted from the total estimated 1943 taxes. The balance, if any,
is due in equal installments on Sept.
15 and Dec. 15.

There are penalties for failure to estimate within 20 per cent of the amount of tax as finally determined in the final report next March.

However, you can file a new declaration by Dec. 15, and pay accordingly (to escape the penalties), if there's substantial change in your income.

In any case, your total 1943 tax will be at least equal to the 1942 tax as you figured it last March, so you can check back on your last return to cut down the possibility of error.

There are two kinds of "work sheets" available to help you figure out the declaration, which is a very short form. Incidentally, you don't send in the work sheets—this is just a collection system, and the Treasury doesn't want a full report until March.

May Get Financial Jolt

One is a tabulation on the back of the instruction sheet being sent to taxpayers. This may be used by anyone whose income is less than $10,000. It's similar to the simplified form which taxpayers with income of less than $3,000 were entitled to use last March. With this, you simply run your finger down to the amount of your net income and find opposite it the amount of estimated income tax.

You can also get a larger form, along the lines of the regular full-length tax blank, on which you can figure out your tax in detail—deductions for contributions, taxes paid and so on.

In choosing the work sheet you use, there's something to be considered besides simplicity. When next March rolls around, you'll have to make out a full return . . . and you may get a financial jolt if you've used the short work sheet in figuring your declaration.

Tomorrow we'll go into the choice of work sheet.

CHILD KILLED

Norristown, Pa., Aug. 31 (AP)—
Six-year-old Calvin C. Peterson, 3rd, suffered a fatal skull fracture yesterday when a pair of horses bolted and threw him from a spreader on his grandfather's farm in Upper Hanover township.

60 x 180 feet, on Lincoln street, east of his new house; and to Hon. Edward McPherson an irregular strip pose of straightening division lines.

The Colonel Takes A Ride

A jumper suit over his uniform, Lt. Col. George H. Hafer, Pennsylvania State Selective Service aide, starts a cross-continent vacation trip in the cab of a railroad locomotive from Harrisburg.

Colonel Hafer, who is a native of Abbottstown and a graduate of Gettysburg college in the class of 1925, thinks traveling is more fun that way—but he plans to spend the nights in a sleeper. His destination is Seattle, Washington.

Flashes of Life

HIGH FLIER

Mount Kisco, N. Y. (AP)—The man on the flying trapeze has nothing on John Williams.

Williams was driving his car on Lexington avenue here when it jumped a curb, struck and severed a telephone pole, knocked down several trees, overturned then righted itself and finally bounced up onto an apartment house porch.

When onlookers arrived on the scene they found Williams still in the driver's seat, gripping the steering wheel—unhurt.

CAN'T BE TOO SOON

New River, N. C. (AP)—Col.
Samuel Calvin Cumming, a Marine Corps officer here, is looking forward to the time he can go back to his birthplace—and he hopes to take his whole regiment with him.
The place, Kobe, Japan.

The colonel's parents were serving there as missionaries at the time of his birth.

roof of his bedroom.

Hours later he was awakened by a heavy downpour in his face.

large bowl of steaming soup on a Navy stove.

Hospital physicians found he was uninjured.

Use Of Air Power

Philadelphia, Aug. 31 (AP)— Robert McLean, president of the Associated Press and of the Evening Bulletin, back after a month in England and Scotland, said Monday the British, confident of victory, are eager to press the Allied air offensive to the fullest lest the Germans develop an effective defense against bombers.

"Unless our American air force in the European theater is built up to full strength at this time, we run the risk of Germany finding the defense tactic or weapon which will deprive us of our present opportunity," he said.

"The British remember how they kept Germany from cashing in on a golden chance of victory in the other World War; German submarines had the British supply lines strangled so that Britain was within two weeks of defeat. Then the British discovered the means of coping with U-boats."

Encouraged as they are by the Allied bombings, the British do not believe that bombings alone can defeat the Axis, he said.

DECLARES DIVIDEND

Philadelphia, Aug. 31 (AP)—Di-

BEEF CRISIS
FORESEEN BY CATTLEMEN

Kansas City, Aug. 31 (AP)—Plenty of steaks—and a beef crisis—are on the way.

Grass-fat beef for a steak-hungry nation is beginning to flood the Kansas City market. Receipts yesterday were approximately 240 carloads, the largest supply in several years.

Southwestern cattlemen, though, fear a crisis will follow if widespread liquidation of their herds continues —and they're meeting Thursday to try to halt the stampede to sell, and show the way to steadier supplies in the months to come.

Livestockmen of 15 states will meet with government representatives and public officials to wrestle with problems of feed and marketing and of fitting the flow of beef to the complicated conditions of America at war.

Avoid Grain Feeding

George Montgomery, formerly chief of the feeds and grains section of the Office of Price Administration and now a professor of economics and sociology at Kansas State college, said widespread liquidation of livestock would seriously hinder the war effort.

And, he asserted, if present feeding conditions continue, much forced marketing may occur. Some cattle producing areas are having difficulty in obtaining feed grains although crops are being harvested.

Cattle now flowing into the Kansas City market are largely the grass-fat class, with a sprinkling of fed steers.

This, livestock men say, reflects a recent tendency on the part of feeders to shy away from long grain diets due to the narrow margin between the price for stockers and feeders and prime beef.

War Production
Rises In July

Washington, Aug. 31 (AP)—Asserting that peak production of many types of fighting equipment has been achieved or is "not far off" Chairman Donald M. Nelson of the War Production Board announced today that July munitions-making increased 3 per cent over occurred.

Airplane production increased 4 per cent, signal equipment 17 per cent and Army ammunition kept even with June, but Nelson said
"important further increases are required" in those three fields.

"If our production goals are to be achieved," he said, "production setups must continue during the next six months."

FATAL CRASH

Titusville, Pa., Aug. 31 (AP)—
Basil H. Vroman, 16, of Titusville
R. D., was killed and five other youths slightly injured in an automobile collision Sunday at a street intersection. Deputy Coroner C. M.
Sonne said an inquest would not be held.

at that time. For a long time he had been more than a state leader and had become a national leader to whom party leaders throughout the country looked for advice. And he kept getting these leaders to work for Harding.

Disliked Speech

"In the fall of 1919 Penrose became ill, and Joseph Grundy, who was Penrose's first lieutenant, was asked by Penrose to stage a banquet for Harding before the Manufacturers' association."

Harding talked at the dinner and Mr. Taylor later read the speech to Penrose.

"Harding had been a member of the Merion band and during the speech he talked at some length on his experiences with that band. Penrose listened and then said that Harding should not have talked so much about the band but should have talked more about the tariff."

"Harding is not as big a man as I thought he was," Mr. Taylor said Penrose told him.

"After that Penrose cooled off slightly and the Harding for president boom died out. One Sunday Penrose had me send for Senator Knox who was then living at Valley Forge," Mr. Taylor continued. "He put the same question to Knox, 'Would you like to be president?'

Knox said he did not want the post and after Penrose asked again and again said he would give his answer in ten days. The days went by and Senator Knox never did answer."

Convention Fight

"At the time of the convention all arrangements had been made for Penrose to attend, but he was too ill. Private telephone and Western Union lines were installed directly from Philadelphia to the convention building in Chicago. The cost was $4,800 for the six days of the convention. Penrose had his lieutenants at Chicago and suggested Senator Knox for president and Hiram Johnson for vice president. That plan fell through when Johnson refused to take second place on the ticket."

"There were a great number of candidates for the presidency and the convention dragged out through the entire week with no one having a majority. At the end of the week there were some suggestions that the convention be held over to the next week but many delegates, having spent all of their money were ready to go home."

Harding Selected

"At the end of the week Penrose's lieutenants gathered together with other leaders and decided to try for Harding. Harding went through and was the next president," Mr. Taylor continued.

"Penrose was a big man, mentally and physically and dominated every gathering he attended. He had everything, looks, brains and money and took advantage of all of it," the speaker said.

He did everything in a big way. Mr. Taylor asserted. In two months he purchased $1,148.44 worth of clothes including 48 night shirts, 48 colored shirts, 48 white shirts, 24 pairs of suspenders, 48 handkerchiefs and 12 pair of silk gloves, according to a bill read by Mr. Taylor to the group. "Everything he did was on that scale," the Bendersville attorney said.

THE LONG NIGHT

By Eleanor Atterbury

Chapter 16

As long as it was daylight, Bette didn't acknowledge creeping terror even to herself. But when the shadows deepened and the dark clouds brought forecasts of a stormy night ahead, she had to face facts.

So tired her legs trembled, she sat down on one of the great granite rocks. If she were on the right trail, she would have been at the Post by now. That she was hopelessly lost was too terribly obvious.

For nearly half an hour she sat there, holding back terror by sheer force of will power, trying to consider what would be sensible for her to do. That she was on a fairly well-defined trail was something in her favor. It must lead somewhere. She had seen footprints several times within the last hour—and tried to tell herself they must be her own and Paul Porter's of the day before. Now, of course, she knew they weren't.

Anyway, they were human footprints, she told herself grimly, and not those of a grizzly. She pulled her coat tighter against the growing sharpness of the chill air. It might be April all right but this was Alaska. She wondered if anyone ever froze to death when it wasn't snowing.

That idea brought her to her feet again with renewed vigor. At least she wasn't going to sit down meekly and accept defeat. She'd keep go-

Red Cross Brings Word Of Brother

Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Meyer, Biglerville, received word this morning from the county Red Cross that Mrs. Meyer's brother, S. W. G. Lehman and family, who were living in Manila at the time of the Japanese conquest, are well.

The message came in a cablegram to the county Red Cross stating, "All well. How everyone at home." A similar message had been received by the Meyers last December from the Lehmans. Mr. Lehman has been a resident of Manila for ten years. An employee of the Standard Oil company, he is married and has one child.

L. E. and Catherine Irene Eckenrode, Huntingtown township, sold to H. T. and Hilda L. Doherty, same place, an 118-acre property in that township.

Trustees of the Citizens Trust company sold to Ivan C. and Hazel I. Sites, Fairfield, a lot in Fairfield.

Mr. Taylor. It was announced that no meeting will be held next Monday, Labor Day and that on September 13 the Rotary will have the Lions as guests at a joint meeting. President Fred Tilberg presided with six guests and 28 Rotarians present.

ing until she dropped.

Later, she wondered what guardian angel had pushed her on the next five hundred yards. If she hadn't found the courage to push on, she might easily have perished in the storm that lashed through those mountains that night. As it was, she stood a little later at the throat of a gap in the mountain range and, amazed, looked almost straight down at the ocean below.

Breathless, she stared unbelievably for a long moment. But the ocean seemed in the wrong place! And the tiny beach far below was almost completely encircled by protecting arms of rugged promontories that almost met. Why, a ship could pass that tiny opening a hundred times and never suspect the break there in that range, and the blue harbor behind it.

Strange. She didn't remember. Then, suddenly she realized what she had done. Instead of following the stream that flowed toward the southern end of the island, she had followed one that poured into some river flowing to the northern shore.

She recalled the hours this morning that she had 'lost' her guiding stream completely. Remembered now that it was too late, that the new stream had been much larger. She should have noticed that it ran in the opposite direction. She had, she concluded finally, simply crossed the watershed! No wonder her legs ached with fatigue. She sat down, sagged wearily against a tree stump.

Now what? It would be dark before she could find her way down to that strip of white beach below. And if she did, what good was that?

As if in answer, she saw a small boat push away from what looked like a clump of trees thrust down to the water's edge. After several moments, the faint hum of a motor was blown up to her. There were people down there!

Her heart lifted joyously. If she hurried—

"She jumped up, started down the mountainside until a fallen tree trunk—and another idea—brought her up short. What if the people were enemies! What if she were walking straight into a Jap camp? She considered the idea while she sat astride the log.

She'd have to chance it. She certainly couldn't turn back—not now. She searched the sky's black throat. Another hour of daylight at most. She'd have to hurry.

Her descent was so rapid as to be perilous at times. She scrambled through brush, sometimes sending showers of earth and stones landing down a sheer cliff to make noise enough to rouse anybody who might be below.

Caution overtook her when she was within half an hour's walk of the beach. The small motor boat had disappeared. Hardly a ripple disturbed the surface of the water. The beach now directly below her, seemed deserted. For all the evidence of human occupation, she might have been the first to look down at this gem-like little harbor. Still, she had seen that boat, heard its motor.

She was still trying to believe she hadn't dreamed it, when she saw the boat come back. From a hidden point just out of sight of her lofty perch, she saw it cut across the blue waters of the bay, leaving a white ribbon of foam to mark its path. Back to the clump of trees that seemed to grow right out into the water. It pulled alongside, straining her eyes, Bette was sure she saw someone climb out of the boat. Up onto what? A tree branch? Absurd.

Craning her neck, she peered through the gathering dusk. Those trees growing out into the water like that. At no other spot along the narrow rim of the harbor did the undergrowth push that close to the bay.

Slowly, the reason unfolded as she watched the figure swallowed up, then the boat, both drawn into the green brush.

Camouflage! She was sure now that accounted for the strange disappearance of both man and boat. A ship lay there snug against the harbor's edge, shielded from any scouting plane by an elaborate screen of branches and leaves.

Fascinated, she made her way farther down the bank, some inexplicable sense of caution warning her to move slowly, silently.

When she was close enough to be sure beyond all doubt of the vessel that lay hidden there, she stood still longer, unconsciously waiting for some further signal. Friend or enemy? She still couldn't be sure.

While she was still weighing her chances of freezing if she spent the night here in these woods or being shot if she walked into an enemy camp, she heard the sound of footsteps. Instantly on guard, her eyes turned toward the sound. On a branch of the trail which hair-pinned into a curve just below the point where she crouched, silent, trembling, she saw something move. Slowly, cautiously, the tall figure of a man moved from one shadow, disappeared into the next.

OPA Predicts Eggs Will Reach 71 Cents

Pittsburgh, Aug. 31 (AP)—The Office of Price Administration expects eggs to bring 68 to 71 cents a dozen in the Pittsburgh district in late September and early October, said an OPA statement issued yesterday.

The prediction came on the heels of an announcement increasing the price of "extra large Grade A" eggs to 64 and 66 cents, or 12 cents above the June price.

RADIO PROGRAMS

New York, Aug. 31 (AP)—Paul Whiteman, veteran in the modern music field and named by the Blu last March 17 as its music director, is due in New York shortly to assume his duties. He has been handling the job by remote control from Hollywood while winding up some broadcast commitments.

Relay of the broadcast message of Pope Pius to the world, scheduled to originate from Vatican City at 7:15 a. m. Wednesday, was announced by NBC. The Vatican broadcast, sent short wave, is expected to include translation in English after the Pope speaks for about 15 minutes.

SAYS BREAKUP OF EMPIRE OF HITLER BEGINS

By DEWITT MACKENZIE

Hitler's empire of conquered and satellite peoples is breaking up before his anxious eyes, from the Balkan cockpit of eastern Europe clear across the continent to the other cockpit of the North sea.

Signs of disintegration multiply, latest among the crises to tear the foundation of the Hitlerian structure are the grave situations in the widely separated states of Denmark and Bulgaria.

It's significant that these two countries are among those which have been favored by the Boche. They haven't like Poland, endured the atrocities which today drew from the United States and Britain denunciation and a promise of retribution. Hitler has adopted an air of beneficence towards the Danes and Bulgarians, hoping to use them among the foundation stones of his new order.

Still, it's not surprising that the liberty-loving Danes, hardy descendants of the Vikings who pushed across the uncharted seas to America centuries before any other European explorers, finally have broken out in fierce revolt against the Boche. That creates an especially grave danger for Hitler, since Denmark provides one of the several potential invasion coasts for the Allies, and the latter might take quick advantage of the situation if things looked particularly good.

Would Be "Hot Spot"

Also a grave politico-military problem for the master gangster is the situation in the Balkans—another potential invasion theatre for the Allies. Bulgaria, his buffer state against the unpredictable Turks and one of his chief bulwarks against an assault by the United Nations up the peninsula, is tottering in loyalty. King Boris has met sudden and mysterious death, and his people have been parading the streets of their sombre capital, demanding peace. Pro-German Premier Philov apparently is trying to hold the fort for Hitler, but his chances of success don't seem good as things now stand.

It would be interesting to know which situation is giving the miserable Hitler the greater worry. Likely it's the Danish upheaval. A successful Allied invasion of western Europe right now, when the Russians are ripping up the Nazi lines in eastern Europe, would place Germany in the desperate position of having to wage major war on opposite fronts.

Then there's another aspect to the imbroglio in little Denmark. As I pointed out last week, relations between neighboring Sweden and the Reich have become so strained that the Swedes are walking close to war with Nazism. If they came into the conflict under those circumstances, they would automatically become one of the Allies. That would make Hitler's western front a hot spot.

Bad Week-end For Hitler

King Boris was a dictator by nature. As virtually absolute monarch he carried his people into the war on the side of the Axis. He probably was impelled to do this because of Germany's powerful influence in the Balkan peninsula, because he thought the Reich was likely to win and bestow favors on Bulgaria, and because he was son-in-law of the king of Italy.

However, the Bulgarian people followed Boris into the war on the side of the Axis reluctantly. They are largely anti-German and are very pro-Russian, because of the Slavic affinity. He who tries to make them fight further for Hitler is inviting trouble.

Perhaps the king lost his life because he finally recognized the futility of trying to force his subjects to give further support to the Nazis. We don't know how he died, but there are all sorts of reports going the rounds and it may be time to disclose that he was assassinated on Nazi orders because he told Hitler in their recent conference that the game was up.

Not a very happy week-end, was it, Fuehrer?

"Miracle" Flash Restores Sight

Canonsburg, Aug. 31 (AP)—A sudden bright flash, caused accidentally when a welding rod contacted an automobile frame, was termed a "miracle" today by George W. Parker, 52-year-old garage mechanic.

For immediately after "that flash" Parker could see out of his right eye—for the first time in 14 years. Parker said he was adjusting his welder's hood to begin work on the automobile frame when the flash occurred.

"Instantly I could see in my right eye," he said.

He was removing a spindle from an auto when a small chip struck his eye, destroying the sight, 14 years ago. An operation failed to restore vision.

GUARD RESERVE ARE MINUTEMEN

Harrisburg, Aug. 31 (AP)—Volunteer auxiliary units of the state guard will be known in the future as "The Pennsylvania Minutemen."

The state Council of Defense said today the new term was authorized to "distinguish more clearly between the auxiliary and the guard itself."

Auxiliary units were set up in each county last year. Members furnish their own equipment and are assigned the duty of guarding vital installations during emergencies.

Captain C. Arthur Brame of Adams county's Pennsylvania State Guard Reserve unit this morning said he had not been advised that the unit will hereafter be known as "The Pennsylvania Minutemen." He said that he had recently purchased sterling silver collar insignia for the unit bearing the inscription "Pennsylvania State Guard Reserve."

DRAWS HEAVY SENTENCE

Glenn D. Beckwith, Greencastle, who at the time of his arrest admitted to several robberies in Adams county cottages near the Caledonia section, was sentenced to from 10 to 20 years in the Eastern penitentiary Saturday in Franklin county court at Chambersburg.

London, Aug. 31 (AP)—The Rome radio announced Sunday that Pope Pius XII will broadcast a message from the Vatican and all Italian stations at 7:15 a. m., Eastern War Time, Wednesday. The announcement did not indicate the nature of the broadcast.

Washington, Aug. 31 (AP)—Secretary of the Interior Harold L. Ickes said today the current output of bituminous and anthracite coal mines is insufficient to meet the year's estimated coal needs and "far below a level which would produce enough coal to compensate for the tonnage lost during the strike."

WORST TRAIN WRECK IN THREE YEARS KILLS 26

Wayland, N. Y., Aug. 31 (AP)—Twenty-six persons were dead today—many of them from inhaling live steam—after the crack Lackawanna Limited passenger train and a switch engine crashed head-on near this southwestern New York community late yesterday afternoon.

Approximately 150 others of the 500 passengers on the Delaware, Lackawanna & Western's New York-to-Buffalo express were injured, several of them seriously in New York's worst train disaster in more than three years.

Moans of the injured mingled with the escaping steam from the switch engine as scores of volunteers dug into the tangled debris to effect rescues and remove the dead. The toll was the state's highest on a railroad since April 19, 1940, when the Lake Shore Limited of the New York Central lines crashed on a sharp curve at Little Falls, killing 31 and injuring 135.

Many Scalded

Railroad officials said twenty-three persons died instantly and three expired today. Of the dead, 12 were identified. At three undertaking establishments were bodies of 18 women, three men and two small girls.

Some of them were scalded and burned so severely that identification may be delayed for many hours.

About 100 suffered superficial injuries and were given first aid treatment at American Legion headquarters and the Masonic hall in this western New York village, about 50 miles south of Rochester.

Fifty-six persons required hospitalization. They were taken to hospitals in Wayland, Bath, Dansville and Corning.

Rush Blood Plasma

Blood plasma was flown from Rochester, Buffalo and Oswego to Dansville and then taken by car to Wayland.

The accident occurred about 5:45 p. m. James E. Leroy of Buffalo, engineer of the limited, said the train was speeding through Wayland when he saw a switch engine on the siding paralleling the main line westbound track.

"The engineer of the local freight locomotive, apparently was confused and thought the limited had gone through and started to pull out on the main line to continue switching," he added. "When I saw the other engine pulling out, I slammed on the limited's emergency brakes, but it was going too fast to avert a collision."

Engineer Hurt

"The two locomotives met at the switch."

The limited, a 13-car train, sheared off the front end of the switch engine and cracked the driving cylinder. The switch engine remained upright on the spur track.

The locomotive of the limited, hurtled down the track and toppled broadside across two main line tracks and two spurs. Three coaches, the diner, a baggage car and mail car were derailed.

Engineer Leroy and the limited's fireman, Theodore Paladino, of Buffalo, suffered shock and bruises.

4 GUARDS FACE COURT MARTIAL

Philadelphia, Aug. 31 (AP)—Four guards whose arrest by the Navy precipitated a three-day strike at the Brewster Aeronautical corporation's Johnstown, Pa., plant last week were called before a Navy court martial today.

The Fourth Naval district said the charge against each was "disobeying the lawful orders of his superior officer." All four, although paid by Brewster represented by the United Automobile Workers (CIO) union, are members of the U. S. Coast Guard Reserve (temporary).

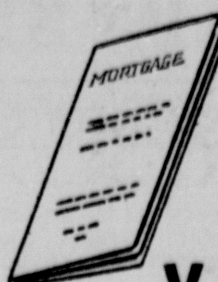

Twenty-eight other guards arrested on the same charge have been released as "prisoners at large" pending determination of their cases.

The Navy said when the four guards were arrested that they refused to take the posts assigned to them. Aircraft Local 365 of the union, which announced it would "work through the courts" for their immediate release, insisted they should be allowed to choose their assignments on the basis of seniority.

Henry J. Kaiser, chairman of the Brewster board, said in New York meanwhile that he would meet with union officials at the corporation's Long Island City, New York, plant today to discuss points of the union-management dispute.

New York, Aug. 31 (AP)—The British Broadcasting corporation said Monday several hundred German soldiers "are said to have been killed in clashes with Danish troops."

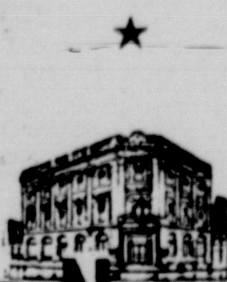

Rockville, Md., Aug. 31 (AP)—The author of Maryland's work-or-fight law under which a 19-year-old farm hand recently was jailed and later released expressed belief Monday that the act is constitutional.

FIRST DRIVER DIES

Philadelphia, Aug. 31 (AP)—Jules X. Junker, 54, believed to be the youngest person ever to drive an automobile legally in Philadelphia, died at his home here Friday.

Junker was 10 years old when his father, founder of one of the city's oldest bakeries, taught him to drive an imported car.
